

Dispensary Budtender

OneGro Investments is the fastest-growing total cannabis universe company in Oregon, with interests in production, cultivation, distribution, consumer products, and retail. We are in search of a Dispensary Budtender. Dispensary Jobs and Budtender Jobs are the most sought after jobs in the industry for entry-level. Budtenders are the face of the dispensary. The ones whom patients interact with on a daily basis. They are responsible for greeting patients, orienting them about strains and use, methods of delivery and titration (dosage). They must know how each strain works to alleviate the different debilitating illnesses for which the cannabis was recommended. They must be keenly aware of the difference of Indica, Sativa and their hybrids. A Budtender will maintain records of effectiveness of the strain for the patient for long-term study and future reference and maintain the dispensary legitimacy. The Budtender should be personable, groomed and knowledgeable about the industry. They will be reporting to the Dispensary Manager. There may be part-time positions available as well as full-time.

The ideal candidate will preferably have 1+ year cannabis retail experience with a good understanding of the cannabis industry.
